

OUR PLEDGE

We the undersigned take ownership for the condition of our country and our governing bodies. We are good people that simply want to live our lives, work hard, and both enjoy and preserve the blessings of liberty for our children and grandchildren. We expect that the people running for government offices have the best interest of the people in mind. Good Americans have become apathetic towards the government process and have not stepped forward because they assumed others would. More is required of us for the privilege of living in the greatest nation on earth. From this day forward, I pledge to be an active participant in the civic life of my community, my state, and my nation. To the best of my ability, I will uphold the pledge of citizenship to which every American is entitled by our Constitution. There are many ways to honor this pledge:

- If I'm able to run for office, I will run. If not, I will search hard to find the right candidate who will represent the people.
- I will work to find volunteers to help these candidates have a voice.
- I will help my fellow Americans to regain confidence in our electoral process, so that we know we can win because we are not alone.
- I will hold elected officials accountable.
- I will pass on to my children and grandchildren a heritage of civic engagement, patriotism, and service to our many communities and common nation.

Through this process, we will form strong bonds that will last for generations, and we will take and maintain the citizen servant representation in all levels of government, as it was meant to be.
